will result in more money for conservation and habitat restoration. Point Poma is the head of Mendocino Point, on the Sonoma coast, just north of Crissy Field and the Golden Gate Bridge. There are five parks on the point, part of Golden Gate National Recreation Area, including Fort Baker, Duxbury Reef, Little Mustang Island, San Francisco Shipwreck Cove, and the Park. On the Sonoma Coast, the Point Arena Lighthouse is one of the most photographed lighthouses in the world. Geography Climate Mendocino County lies in the ocean fog belt with cool wet summers and cool to mild wet winters. The annual rainfall ranges from 8–20 inches (200–500 mm), with most of the precipitation falling between the months of November and April. Flora and fauna Flora Mendocino County is home to the San Juan Ridge and Cobblestone Canyon ecoregions. The San Juan Ridge is characterized by broad valleys, steep slopes, and a north–south orientation that preserves the locally dominant trees and grasses. Fauna Mendocino County is home to a number of rare and endangered species. The California black brant geese are particularly noteworthy; there are approximately 100 breeding pairs left in the county. Mendocino County is also home to over 5,000 red-legged frogs, five species of spiny newts, 15 species of lizards, and over 40 species of snakes. Q: How to specify the names of public members of a query? I have three domains with name Point1, Point2 and Point3. I have their public members' values that are related to each other. For example, the points' values are longitude, longitude_1, longitude_2, latitude and latitude_1. Now, I want to build a query that shows the values of the points for the X value and the Y value of the point which is just connected with another point. This is what I'm trying to do: SELECT ,(SELECT Points.longitude_2 - Points.longitude FROM Points WHERE Points.longitude=Point1_longitude_1 AND Points.longitude_1=Point1_longitude_2) AS delta FROM Point1 WHERE LONGITUTE = 0.0; And I get the following error: #1064 - You have an error in your SQL syntax; check the manual that corresponds to your MySQL server version for the right syntax to use near '(SELECT Points.longitude_2 - Points.longitude FROM Points WHERE Points.longitude=Point1_longitude_1 ' at line 4 Can someone help me? A: Try to use aliases for all columns, and to use joins instead of subselects: SELECT P., (P2.Longitude - P.Longitude) AS delta FROM Point P JOIN Point P2 ON P.Longitude = P2.Longitude_1 Mick McCabe: Lost on the TV editing treadmill Mick McCabe There is a seat in the House of Commons that represents the interests of my family. It is not a major Parliamentarian, and it makes a very modest contribution to the political and economic life of this country, but it is very important to my mother and father. My mother and father are not political in a classic sense, they just vote at the polls and have some influence on the way things go in British politics. This year their seat was formally represented by Rory Stewart, the leader of the House, who went to the Foreign Office for a while, worked his way up to the top job, but is now back to his original position. I was unhappy because he turned out to be rather negative and did not like the Brexit legislation, which he didn
