And for billions of years, that tiny piece of matter has been orbiting the sun and making loops around the galaxy. It's everything and nothing. And it's a world of its own. It's a different thing from the rest of the universe, and from this world, the rest of the universe belongs. This is where we are. This is the center of our universe. Ladies and gentlemen, you are at the center of the world. Het mes, also written Het mez, is a Dutch term for "that month". The Dutch equivalent for the term is dat jaar. In the Netherlands, it is usually expressed in the form of a question: "Het jaar heet 'het mes'?" ("What is the name of that month?"). In the East-Frisian dialect, "Het mez" is used as a short form of "dat mez". It may also be used in connection with the Dutch expression "dat ding", meaning "that thing", such as "Dat mez is gewoon heet". In the Belgian dialects, "Het mez" is used as a synonym of "dat zeestal", referring to the month of July. Etymology The modern spelling in the Dutch language uses the Dutch word "mes", while the East Frisian-speaking dialect uses the older spelling "mez", which is a short form of "dat mez". The older form is still in use in the Hetmeesterschap, the official East Frisian-language publishing house. The etymology of the word "mes" is
