What's New In?

From the Developer:The desk switcher is great tool for keeping many applications running in your taskbar. Some very important information such as Virtual Windows, number of desktops or applications status will be displayed on the taskbar just next to the application. You can use the desk switcher to switch between applications with left mouse button click only. Here are some features: *Works both in full screen mode and windowed mode *New icons will not be added to your desktop so you will be able to tell more easily the desk switcher used application *Desk switcher doesn't use the taskbar icons just next to the taskbar so will keep the desktop clean *The desktop background will be displayed over the desk switcher just to give a good visual effect *Windows that have been minimized will not be affected by the desk switcher so you will be able to work as if you were in a windowed environment *All desktops are listed with first column being the number of the desk where the application is running (2nd column empty for program that does not have a virtual desktop) *Control+left click will reduce the window to the same desktop as the selected window *Display icon, program name and virtual windows for minimized windows *You can't change the icon used for the desk switcher, only virtual desktop icon What's New Version 2.0.1: Minor bug fixes Version 2.0.0: Added new function. You can now get a list of all the desk switcher applications that you have running. The desk switcher will now be able to switch to the virtual desk that is also running Virtual Windows and similar programs. This will be more than just a virtual desktop switcher, it will be a virtual desk switcher. Ratings Details VirtuaWin Desk Switcher was reviewed by ASG technik staff on 3/4/2012 2:04:15 PM.
