Trump had a higher approval rating in the second quarter, which ended April 30, but it has declined in recent months. ADVERTISEMENT His approval rating dropped to 40 percent in the first quarter after being at 44 percent in the second. Trump's approval rating has largely remained under 45 percent throughout his first term, although it has dipped below 40 percent on occasion, according to Gallup. His lowest rating is 36 percent, registered in January. The 38 percent number represents an average over the three months of the first quarter. Trump's approval rating averaged 43 percent in the final three months of last year. Twenty-nine percent of Americans said they disapprove of Trump, while 53 percent said they approve of the president's work in office. Gallup's latest survey was conducted from March 26 to April 1, three days after Trump fired FBI Director James Comey. Democrats have said Comey's dismissal was a disturbing pattern of behavior related to Russia, with House Intelligence Committee Chairman Devin Nunes (R-Calif.) accusing former national security adviser Michael Flynn of being the victim of a "witch hunt." The Gallup poll surveyed 1,503 adults, including 298 Democrats and 300 Republicans, d0c515b9f4
