* * * * Customize your Skill by leveling up: As time passes, the skills you have learned increase in effect. All skills are "unique" in the sense that none of them can be purchased with Gold, and each skill can only be learned by leveling up. The calculation for skill increase is as follows (Skill Points): 4 Skill Level +2 Skill Points per day. Skill Points can be bought by using Shards. Each point can be purchased from +2 to +3 using 15 to 20 points, but a maximum of +3 per day. (Skill Points are of no use after a Skill Rank is completed). By character level, you can gradually increase the level of the skills you have. You can learn a skill with a level of 0, but it cannot be used until a higher skill is learned. Once a skill is learnt, it can be used for as long as the character maintains the skill's level. A character cannot learn skills once a higher skill is already learned. You can level up your skills through normal play (time of day) and by providing a certain amount of experience points using monsters. A character can earn experience points as follows (Experience Points): 4 Normal Play +1 + Level of Skill. Experience Points can be gained at the end of battle. You can set the levels of your skills as you desire. Of course, skills that are more powerful will be learned faster. You can change the skills to be learnt at the start of play. By character level, you can gradually increase the level of the skills you have. You can learn a skill with a level of 0, but it cannot be used until a higher skill is learned. Once a skill is learnt, it can be used for as long as the character maintains the skill's level. A character cannot learn skills once a higher skill is already learned. You can start play from Level 0. Please note that it is very hard to play the game without skills (character rank

After which I must start using at least the new Beta and a fixed-rate disc for months for the game to actually release. I've been in human nature and have stopped using discs. I can't help it. I don't know why I can't get it, but there's that urge in me. Maybe it is the challenge of getting through all the animations and just perfecting them before releasing the disc? I dunno really. This is really just what I won't buy the game again until it releases" kinda post. I'll probably be the first to admit getting used to it, but I've been playing this game on Xbox Live for 6 months, and I still put in the hours every day, play 2-3 games, and online at least once. It still takes me an hour to beat the dlc, maybe 2 hours to beat an endgame pack, and once or twice a week it takes an hour or two to beat all the game packs. The game really doesn't have any easy mode like other RPGs. I won't look up the time it took us to beat a game anymore, but this game has just sat around for so long, I just can't wait any longer. I don't get the urge to play it as often, but I can't watch a game without moving my mouse. My friend was playing it last night, so I was watching because I was curious, and she ended up playing till 6 in the morning. Sometimes she just plays on the simplest level to see what it's about, and I knew that was the way she was going to play it, but when the story was going forward and it felt like an action shooter, it struck me so much more and I was in it. I think it was just the story mode that intrigued me so much the first time.
