No Time to Relax is an adventure experience. During the game you are thrown into the past and must solve puzzles, meet characters, uncover the mystery and solve multiple cases. So please, no spoilers! This is a puzzle/adventure game with a unique look. The game has been in development for over a year. In the past we have released a first demo (more than 3 years ago now) and the game has received numerous positive reviews including the Best Indie Game of the Year award. The game will be in Steam Early Access at the beginning of September. You can check out the original game trailer here: About Valve: Valve is an independent game developer, publisher, and platform holder. Founded in 1996, Valve's goal is to focus on the creation of games that people want to play, and that create fun and friendly gaming communities. Valve is credited with the creation of popular game genres such as multiplayer online battle arena (MOBA), real-time strategy (RTS), role-playing (RPG), and first-person shooter (FPS), among others. Their game Counter-Strike (1998, modded in 1999, company copyright 2002) is one of the best-selling games of all time and a timeless multiplayer first-person shooter that has sold over 30 million copies worldwide. Other popular titles include Portal (2007) and Team Fortress 2 (2007), both of which are best-sellers. Alongside developing their own games, Valve has published several games by other companies. Valve was named the 2013 recipient of the Jolt Award, which they received for their outstanding achievements in game development. No Time To Relax is an adventure game where you play as a different character every time. This time you will be a travelling journalist who has a special ability to travel through time. With no time to relax you have to find your way through mysterious places, solve puzzles and get back home safely. IMPORTANT: I know this has been said a million times, but I want to say it again and again because it could help people. You will need a Steam account to download this game. You can make a free Steam account here - - and link it to your No Time To Relax account in your Steam settings. Finally, the first time you install the game and launch it you need to add the.zip file with

The breathtakingly fast CRH380A comes to Train Simulator for authentic and blinding Chinese high-speed action courtesy of Partner Programme developer Just Trains. Following the introduction of passenger-dedicated high-speed railways throughout China in 2007, several iterations of modern-age multiple units have been manufactured to take full advantage of the growing network. Earlier models, such as the CRH380D and CRH380B, were derived directly from foreign technologies developed by the likes of Bombardier and Siemens; however, it was the intention to also utilise foreign components and build entirely unique high-speed stock, and by 2010, such a feat had been achieved. The CRH380A, built by CSR Qingdao Sifang, was designed as a cutting-edge high-speed EMU that could easily achieve the typical, yet outstanding, km/h speed limits. In testing, it achieved even higher speeds, with a 16-car variant exceeding 486 km/h, over 300mph! Being one of the fastest conventional trains in the world, the CRH380 was set to propel the millions upon millions of passengers that traverse China by high-speed rail every year. Like the Shinkansen Series of Japan or the TGV Series of France, the CRH380A's distinct streamlined nose is a formidable sight and paramount for attaining such high speeds.

The sleek profile, combined with powerful traction equipment, required vibration and pressurisation systems and reliable high-speed bogies, allow for a unit which can do 0-380 in a mere 7 minutes, a fantastic achievement for rail traction. Of course, such speeds also require powerful and efficient brakes, and the CRH380 is fitted with top-of-the-range gear. Boasting high capacity, and high speed, the CRH380A from Just Trains is the pinnacle of modern tractive technology, and serves the Southwest China High Speed Network route with pride. What's new in Where In The World Is Carmen Sandiego:

(comic strip) Death Live is a fictional comic book published since 1997 by Oni Press, with Grendel collaborating artist Daniel Samper. Publication history Death Live started as an independent comic book, launching in 1997. Most issues featured multiple artists, usually two, and were usually longer than the industry standard 32 pages, running 60 pages. At least 27 issues of the series were produced, with the final issue released in 2006. Death Live is an ongoing series that began with a Halloween/X-Mas themed anthology, the character designs for which were created by Paul Grist, then inked by Mark Texeira. Other issues were produced, including a 6-part "1 After 9" story in which Death is freed from his chains and reinstated as the "God of Hell". In "Heart of Darkness", Death is shown to have a "past life" as an ax murderer; an anniversary issue featured a new story with a reprinted version of a 1944 EC Comics story "The Tell-Tale Heart", with a different color scheme. Circa 2006 the line became exclusively black and white. The series began to suffer from poor sales. Although the individual artists each had gained a following, the quality of the product seemed to be at a nadir at this point. Grendel continued to produce further issues throughout the next decade, sometimes he did only one or two, at other times returning to Death for a monthly serialization. In 2007 Oni Press acquired production rights to Death Live, relaunching with a Death issue (#234). For the first time, issues featured three penciled pages with stylized comic book strip by Daniel Samper, new color through coloring by Heike Fink and meticulous line work through Marat Grigorian. The look and feel of the book changed dramatically. Oni continued to produce Death issues, eventually soliciting another miniseries, "Deadly Holy Night in Bethlehem" in 2011, but so far no new issues have been released. Characters In the early issues Blackthorne was the titular character, but he later took on the moniker Death, which is his true name. He was represented as a young man until issue 14 where he was shown to be in his mid 30s. The series followed him as he struggled with his own demons, becoming more and more insane. The sanity of Death deteriorated to the point where he stopped aging. Zebediah Thorn was a young

Gratuitous Tank Battles is a remake of the original Flash games created by Voodoo Shark in 2005. The Gratuitous Tank Battles series pits AI controlled tanks against each other in a winner take all fight to see who can score the most points. There are over 30,000 goals in total, each potentially worth different amounts of points. Test your battle skills by driving and shooting your way through the war-torn plains of Europe, the deserts of North Africa, or the forested terrain of the Pacific Theatre. Many of the game's original concepts have been reworked to make the game more intuitive, with new game modes and a new 3D user interface. "Gratuitous Tank Battles is a watershed in terms of real-time strategy gameplay. Voodoo Shark has changed the real-time strategy game forever with this game! If you like your strategy games speeded up, this game is for you!" - Michael Mihailidis, creator of "New York Times Best Selling Book 'Game Design' " Voodoo Shark's great step-by-step walk through of the making of Gratuitous Tank Battles includes full game and level editor documentation and is available in both English and German versions. Return to the neverending campaign, or dive back into the universe with new vehicles, enemies, and missions. View the detailed work of the skillful Voodoo Shark Team, including their great reviews for Gratuitous Tank Battles on the Machinima.com forums.
