There is already a commercial Â· element to the existing SACD release and a fairly well Â· established market of people who will buy these releases. Once we have Â· a commercial element to the SACD releases we will take Â· full advantage of it to ensure we get a better Â· return on our investment in the SACD releases. If we Â· keep doing a cheap SACD release then the only people we make any Â· money from are the ones who haven't paid for it yet and Â· Â· It's not just about the money, as long as it's the kind of Â· SACD release we would put our own name on.
