Street Legal Racing Redline 2.2 crack is a racing game developed by Invictus and published by Activision Value. The game takes place in Valo City (possibly a play on the word velocity), a metropolis known for its vast underworld of illegal street racing. The plot of the game is to beat every club and accomplish the requirements to enter the Race of Champions, a prestigious racing competition where one can win a bonus car. Players have to race others on the streets during the day for prestige (respect) or money to customise the car. During the night, players can either participate in a drag race against another driver or watch the race. And also the newly added race tracks that allows the player to race their own vehicle against AIs on a race track to win a prize. A unique feature of the game is its detailed level of customisation for the vehicles. The player can buy a completely new car from the dealership, a used one from a local shop where they were already customised or even totalled, or build the car from scratch with a chassis.
