[read more] If you're a hardcore cyclist, then you can't be seen without your helmet. And no wonder. Without it, your head is directly exposed to the elements and the road accidents can be quite dangerous. When riding in rainy weather conditions, your head can get even more exposed to water, dirt and dust. It's especially the case when you're in the mountains and you have to get off the bike and let it ride. In that situation, you can't have a damaged, dripping head. Even worse, the roads are slippery, especially if it rains heavily. So, in such weather conditions, you should wear a helmet, no matter what. You don't want to ruin your head's nice shape or the feel of your scalp. The problem is that you can hardly put on a helmet on the go. You can get yourself tangled in all sorts of things, or you may end up with the wrong size. This is why you may use the iRideCafe a time tracker that will help you manage your time with a creative set of features. It can help you track time on a bike, a run, a row, a hike or a skateboard. The application can monitor your movements during the day or track your rides over a period of time. It can be used for a number of purposes, such as reporting the time spent in a gym or finding out if you have time left in your current activity. The time tracker will show you the status, the progress, and the details about your ride on a neat and modern interface. In addition, you can compare the data with other users or compare your activity with your daily goals. A nice feature is the ability to mark a ride as a mistake or as a missed ride. This will help you track these rides, so you can analyze and understand how you spent your time. You can also use the time tracker to create custom activities. Performance If you plan to use the time tracker for a gym, for example, you will have to sign up for an account to start tracking your exercises. This is because the application will collect your workout information from your selected activities. The tracker can be used without an internet connection. You can also use the tracker to sync your data to the cloud, so you can view it via the website on your phone or tablet. This is a nice feature that will improve the user interface. Unlike many other time

Q: How to set a general rule on some of the actions, based on the category in asp.net mvc i am developing a asp.net mvc based web application. In this application there are three types of categories. How can i set the rules on some of the actions like showing and hiding certain elements based on the category selected. thanks A: You can add Categories to your actions and show/hide accordingly. public ActionResult CategoryAdmin() { // return different view/cshtml based on category return View(); } Little do you know that I've been caught in a web of love. You might say I've been tangled in a maze of relationships. You see, the way I was raised, relationships were the number one priority in my life, and as I've gotten older I've learned to love, and to let others love me, but to stop jumping into too many relationships with the intent of finding one. All that I've found was the rebound effect, and that's no way to find happiness in a relationship. Because a relationship takes work and work takes time. This is something that I've learned over the years. You might say that my observation on relationships are rooted in my own life experiences. Let me explain: I was raised in a

Police are looking for three men in connection with the alleged sexual abuse which took place between 2009 and 2010. Diane King said her daughter was found bleeding and distressed when she returned to the same nursery from visiting her husband on the day before her fifth birthday. She said the abuse continued until her daughter was about seven years old. Mrs King told the Southampton Evening Echo: "It's very upsetting. The last incident was about a year and a half ago and I thought she had just forgotten about it, but that wasn't the case. "She said they'd hurt her and they'd said she was a slut and that she had bad periods. "It's a horror story. "She used to like going to nursery - she was happy there and liked her friends. They were all young girls and she was a little bit younger than them. "I don't know how they were allowed to get away with it." A spokeswoman for Southampton City Council said: "We are very sorry to hear about the allegations concerning the South Coast Nursery. "Any report of child abuse is immediately referred to the police. "As a responsible employer we have taken all necessary steps to make sure this never happens again. "As a result we are in the process of setting up a new safeguarding policy with the National Trust for Education and Development to ensure all children in nurseries are safe."Meningococcal
